LYNCHHAUN ON STAND

IRISH FUGITIVE TELLS OF COM-PACT AGAINST LANDLADY.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—Lynchhaun, the Irish fugitive, took the stand and told his story of his fight with his landlady, Agnes McDonald, for striking whom he was convicted of assault with intent to kill and sentenced to prison for life.

Lynchhaun said on the stand that the acts of Agnes McDonald had made her a terror to her tenantry, and at a secret meeting of the Irish revolutionary brotherhood of the island of A-hill of which he was an officer, it was decided to burn her barns and frighten her back to England. The fire was started, and while the tenants were aiding to save her stock, Lynchhaun said, she threatened him with a revolver, and he struck her after she had hit him in the face with her fist. Lynchhaun said he struck the woman in accordance with the orders of the brotherhood that she be punished enough to drive her off the island.

Freight Wreck on the I. C. Kills Two Men.

Many Cars and Two Locomotives Lost at Calvert City and the Trestle Burned.

CREW OVERLOOKED ORDERS

There was a serious wreck on the I. C. road one and a half miles south of Calvert City and about sixteen miles from Paducah last night at 9:50 o'clock when an extra freight train, north bound, met in head end collision with the first section of regular freight No. 151, south bound, on a 75 foot trestle, and as a result the trains were both badly wrecked, the engines completely demolished and burned with the trestle, and Engineer George Dulaney and an unknown fireman learning the road are missing.

The wreck is one of the worst in actual damage and in loss of time in the passenger runs, than has happened in years and all night trains were though necessity sent around via the L. and N. road last night.

The extra north bound freight, engine No. 1, was in charge of Conductor Theodore Decker, Engineer George Dulaney and Fireman Eden and carried an extra fireman who was learning the road while the regular freight train, engine No. 623, was in charge of Conductor F. M. Hill and Engineer H. Scarborough. The extra was ordered to "make Clark's station," which is this side of Calvert, but the crew overlooked orders according to reports, and tried to make Calvert City instead, meeting the freight train on the trestle while going at full speed. The crews jumped and escaped except Engineer Dulaney and the unknown fireman who are missing and supposed to be under the wreckage, and Engineer Scarborough who was injured in the back in jumping.

The trains caught fire from the engines and several cars with the trestle were consumed by the flames. The engines were both completely demolished and four cars out of the 14 making up the regular freight, and seven out of the 37 making up the extra, completely destroyed. The wrecker was ordered out of Paducah immediately after the accident and the outfit hurried through to the scene of the disaster. Timber enough to repair the trestle was taken to the wreck this morning and bridge laborers are working heroically to repair the bridge and make it possible for the passage of trains over the road.

Last night train No. 103, the fast south bound passenger, was sent around via Nortonville to McKenzie while the north bound train No. 104 was sent around via the L. and N. from Martin to McKenzie to Nortonville. This morning all trains were run through as far as the wreck and the passengers and baggage transferred. The Fulton accommodation train met the Hopkinsville train at the wreck and both were turned back, the Fulton train assuming the run of the Hopkinsville train and the Hoptown train taking the run of the accommodation to Louisville.

The damage will amount to a great deal to the road, many thousands of dollars being lost in the wreckage. The engines are reported to be total losses and over a dozen cars with contents were destroyed.

Later today it was learned that C. L. Hutton is the name of the unknown fireman who was learning the road last night when caught in the wreckage, and his home is in Cumberland Furnace, Tenn.

A BOY IN SUMMER TIME.

[By McCutcheon, in Chicago Daily Tribune.]

"It's funny how much easier it is to work the ice cream freezer than it is to churn."

The remains of either the engineer or fireman, this the trainmen being unable to state positively were recovered this morning shortly after nine o'clock by the wrecking crew. A portion of the lower limbs and body were recovered but are burned so badly there is nothing that might lead to identification. The legs were taken from under the wreckage near the engine.

The wrecking crew is laboring hard to repair the trestle and was making good headway at last reports. The noon train, No. 102 was annulled and did not arrive here, being sent around via McKenzie over the L. & N. as were the trains last night. It is not known how soon the road will be in operation but it is thought the trains will be enabled to run through by night.

Dulaney had been here a few days only, having come from Minnesota, and boarded at the Bailey house on West Broadway. He has a young wife here and had been an engineer a short time only, having been examined last week and passed. Last night was his second run out.

It is reported that a fireman named Bealer was the regular fireman on the engine but the railroad callers say they called Eden, who was Dulaney's regular fireman.

Later reports from the wreck show that when the collision was seen to be inevitable Engineer Dulaney called for brakes and remained at his post while his fireman, Eden, jumped as also did Engineer Scarborough and Fireman Hodges of the 151. Hodges was bruised and Eden injured about the head in alighting. Hutton, the fireman learning the road, was caught and could not escape. His watch was found in the wreckage and had stopped at 1:20 o'clock. Flagman Garfield Frogge running extra, was injured in the shoulder and ankle but not seriously.

The damage is estimated at $30,000 and it will require over 36 hours to clear the wreckage.

ANOTHER WRECK REPORTED.

At press time a passenger wreck had been reported between Fulton and Dyersburg, Tenn., but no details had been received here.

The report was to the effect that a passenger train engine had turned over but gave no news of the injured, if any. As no reports of accidents south of Fulton are received here, the local dispatchers could get nothing of the matter.

CHINESE TREATIES SIGNED.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Announcement is made at the state department that the Chinese-American treaty was signed today and that the Japanese-Chinese treaty will be signed this afternoon. The treaty was signed at Shanghai.

BIG DAMAGES ASKED SEVEN STAR ROUTES

Col. R. G. Caldwell Sues the Evening Ledger.

He Asks Twenty-five Thousand Dollars Damages for Alleged Libellous Articles.

RESULT OF RECENT CONTEST

Colonel R. G. Caldwell through Attorneys Wheeler and Hughes, Flournoy and Harrison and Reed and Berry today filed suit against the Paducah Ledger Publishing Co., publishers of the Evening Ledger, for $25,000 damages for libel in the publication of an article concerning him.

He first had the defendants arrested for criminal libel and the case was brought in Justice Barber's court and later before Judge Sanders, where the defendants waived examination and were held over to the circuit court.

The charge is in connection with the statements in regard to Colonel Caldwell, and the Democratic committee's action in the J. Henry Smith's contest for the Democratic nomination for city treasurer.

BLACKMAILERS KEEP THREAT

NORTHERN PACIFIC TRAIN BLOWN UP—BLOODHOUNDS ON WRECKERS' TRAIL.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 8.—Threats made some days ago by an unknown gang of blackmailers that unless Northern Pacific road officials paid up $50,000, it would wreck the road were partially fulfilled last night when a freight on the Northern Pacific road at Birds Eye, a station seven miles west of Helena, was blown up with dynamite.

The train ran over several sticks of dynamite placed on the rails. Part of the track was destroyed, while the pilot of the engine was wrecked and the headlight was broken to particles.

Bloodhounds are now on the trail of the dynamiters. Thomas Cooper, general manager of the road, is at Staples, Minn., where he was notified of the wreck. He started at once for Montana to take personal charge of the pursuit of the wreckers.

NOT GUILTY.

NOT GUILTY IS THE VERDICT IN THE DON TODD CASE.

Fulton, Ky., Oct. 8.—The jury in the Don Todd case returned a verdict at Clinton and freed Mr. Todd of the charge of murder. The jury was given the case early yesterday afternoon and up to retiring last night stood five for guilty against seven for acquittal.

Mr. Todd is one of Clinton's most prominent young citizens and was charged with killing Will Davis there last spring. He stabbed Davis to death in self-defense for a remark Davis made about Todd's sister.

HOT STUFF.

NEWSPAPERS CATCH FIRE AND COME NEAR CAUSING BLAZE.

The fire department was called to 807 Husbands street this morning at 7 o'clock to extinguish newspapers on the wall of a negro cabin owned by Mr. Fred Hopple. The paper had ignited from the stove and was burning fiercely when the firemen arrived. The conflagration was stopped before any damage had been done.

Mr. U. E. Gibson of Louisville, is visiting in the city.

Will be Contracted for Again for Four Years.

Special Government Agent in the City—Speculators Now Barred.

TO BE LET FEBRUARY 1

Mr. Charles Rager, of Cincinnati, a special agent for the postoffice department, is in the city on business connected with the postoffice service in McCracken county, as applied to the star routes and screen wagon service. Mr. Rager is here to arrange for the reception of bids for the star route contracts which are to be relet shortly. There are 1128 of these star routes and screen wagon contracts in Kentucky, and there are but four screen wagon contracts let in the state, which contracts are for carrying mail from post-offices to trains, and one of which is at Paducah.

There are seven star routes in McCracken county, and contracts are to be relet for all of them for four years. It was thought possible that some of them would be discontinued on account of the rural free delivery in the county, established since the last star route contracts were let, but this is a mistake.

The bids here will be for the seven star routes and the screen wagon service between the postoffice and depot. The bids must be filed with the postoffice department by December 1, and the decisions or awards, will be announced February 1, and the contracts entered into July 1.

The postoffice department has made some important changes, which will take the star route contracts out of the hands of speculators. Hereafter the successful bidder must live on or near the star route, and must give the work his personal attention, if he does not actually do the work. There will be a distribution and collection of box mail along the route by all star route carriers, which will amount to almost rural free delivery. Speculative bidding for the contracts will be positively prohibited.

The result will be a great improvement in the star route service here and everywhere else. It will open the competition for carrying the mail to everybody and place it beyond the reach of speculators.

He stated that he had always conducted his court fairly and while he was aware that he had made a few enemies, felt glad that he could number his friends in the thousands.

COUNCIL WILL PAY

Money to be Given Library Trustees Soon.

Adjourned Meeting of the Board of Councilmen Last Evening.

MUCH BUSINESS TRANSACTED

The council met last night in adjourned session with Councilmen Brooks and Gilson absent.

Mr. Charles Hayman, of the Ship Carpenters' union, asked that the city extend the National Ship Carpenters' association an invitation to hold its next convention here, which request was complied with.

It was reported that notice of the action of the boards relative to Yeiser park had been officially served on County Judge Lightfoot.

A new bond, dated two days later in order to make the signature of the bond company conform to the power of attorney granted their local agent, was executed by Contractor Terrell, of the brick streets.

Owing to the ringing of bells and other noise of the I. C. switch engines in the vicinity of Eighth, Ninth, Trimble and Clay streets, a petition for relief was filed from residents of that vicinity. The matter was referred to the solicitor to ascertain if the city has the power to interfere.

The matter of renumeration Alex Venters for filling a ditch the city dug through his property and failed to re-fill, was referred to the mayor.

Fifty dollars expenses was allowed, and the following appointed delegates to the Ohio Valley Improvement association at Evansville the 14-15 of this month:

Messrs. Henry Petter, J. H. Ashcraft, O. M. Cole, S. A. Fowler, Young Taylor, H. F. Smith, Joseph Riglesberger, H. Hughes, Edward Woolfolk and George Langstaff.

Treasurer Kraus reported on hand September 1, $27,985.71, received since $5,996.54, disbursed $16,031.41, leaving a balance on hand the first of this month of $17,950.84.

Accounts amounting to $9,493.19 were allowed.

Health Officer Graves was allowed the $150 extra for work done during the smallpox last winter, all except Councilman Hummel favoring it.

The amount collected at the city scales from January 1 to date was reported to be $781.75.

An amendment was made to the ordinance for extending the sewerage from Ninth and Tennessee streets to Norton by changing the time for the completion to December 31, 1904, over a year from now.

Second passage was given the ordinance relative to closing an alley in Mechanicsburg for the benefit of the company, which is in turn to give the city additional ground.

The ordinance for sidewalks on Jefferson street from 14th to 18th streets was held up because, it was claimed, it could not be agreed on what kind of material to use.

Solicitor Worten took a crack at the mayor and other members of the council who tried so hard by injunction to force Paducah back into the second class, in a report relative to the Gas company's charging meter rent. He stated that the company had no right to do so, and that he based his opinion on his own knowledge of law, and not on the opinions of men in other places who were paid for giving advice to city officials of Paducah. The report was received and filed.

The ordinance was given first passage fixing the salary of city treasurer at $1800 a year.

Regular reports of the fire chief, sewer inspector, milk and meat inspector and sexton of Oak Grove were received.

A protest from J. H. Fritzius that he was erroneously assessed on horse and wagon and grocery stock was referred.

A letter from the library trustees demanding the $1500 appropriated by the city for the fund, was read, and owing to the fact that the Yeiser crowd, which has it in for some of the members of the board, learned through the Sun several days ago that the trustees would keep the building until they got the money, which was refused them by city officials Monday, they were ready last night to give up the money, because they knew they had to, and it was so voted. After the aldermen have acted on the matter the mayor says he will give the

I have suffered intensely for nine years—from what cause I did not know and do not now. I have tried several remedies with little or no relief. I have been advised to go to the hospital, but I found that Zoa Phora was far better than the knife. board the money. The clerk reported that he had notified the county clerk in regard to the vote on the bond issue.

W. N. Levan's money paid for saloon license in Mechanicsburg, the aldermen refused, was refunded.

The action of the upper board in authorizing the city engineer to pay a man $2.50 a day for overseeing the work on the brick streets was ratified.

The board ordered referred back to the aldermen the matter of returning to Contractor Terrell the check of $500 given as a forfeit when he bid on the brick street. The council ordered the check returned and the aldermen ordered it retained and put to the credit of the city, but the latter afterwards voted to leave it to the mayor.

The mayor, owing no doubt to the fact that it is election time, and he as usual wants to be on both sides of the fence, does not want to assume the responsibility of turning the check back to Contractor Terrell, which is the only thing he can do because he and the contractor have always been the warmest of friends in politics. It now goes back to the aldermen for a vote of instructions, which the mayor can then follow out and as usual say somebody else did it.

The street inspector was ordered to make repairs and improvements to the levee at the foot of Jefferson where a ditch has been dug for drainage.

A pipe was ordered laid around the city hall yard to the rear in order to connect with the steam heating system. The employees of the city light department were ordered paid semi-monthly.

The auditor was ordered to demand of the gas company the money collected from the city under the head of meter rent.

The board adjourned.

NEWS OF THE LUCKY

Old Soldier Inherits Quite a Fortune in Illinois.

Tennessee Baby Is Heir to a Rich Estate Near Greenville, Miss.

STEEL TRUST CUTS DIVIDENDS

INHERITS $250,000.

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 8.—Constantine Langenbacher, aged 75 years, an inmate of the state soldiers' home, has just received the assurance that he is one of the heirs to an estate estimated at $250,000. For forty years all of his brothers supposed that he was dead and that he was still in the land of the living was learned by the merest accident by his brother who lives in Pittsburg.

Langenbacher was born in Birmingham, Pa., and was a resident of Jersey City when the civil war broke out. He enlisted in company G, 23d New Jersey infantry, and that was the last his brothers had heard from him. At the close of the war he settled in Clinton, Ill., where he has a wife and several children. During the past few years he has spent most of the time in the soldiers' homes in Danville and Quincy.

HEIR TO BIG ESTATE.

Bristol, Tenn., Oct. 8.—There was born to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Patterson of Greenville, the past week a daughter. Born within sight of the eagle-mounted shaft that marks the tomb of President Andrew Johnson, the little one is a great granddaughter of the dead president, and by the terms of the will of her grandmother, Mrs. Martha J. Patterson, who was the daughter of President Johnson, the new baby becomes heir to the entire Johnson estate, including the historic property about Greenville.

The father of the little one is the only living son of the late Mrs. Patterson. He is a miller at Greenville. While not seeking after political honors, he had the distinction of being honored by President Cleveland with the consulate at Georgetown, British Guiana, which position he held with the utmost satisfaction to the administration.

CUT DOWN DIVIDEND.

New York, Oct. 8.—As the result of a compromise among the directors, the United States steel corporation has cut the dividend of the common stock from 1 per cent quarterly to half of 1 per cent. The regular dividend of 1 3-4 per cent quarterly was declared on the preferred stock. This means the trust will pay out about $2,500,000 less dividends than last quarter.

Announcement of this declaration of dividends was made after a meeting lasting 20 minutes at the headquarters, No. 71 Broadway. J. P. Morgan, Charles M. Schwab, H. H. Rogers, H. C. Frick, E. H. Gary, George W. Perkins and W. E. Corey were the conspicuous figures at the meeting.

C. Calhoun was paid a fee of $71,000 by the provisions of a contract made and entered into with Governor Beckham.

General Murray arrived here from West Point to complete arrangements for the reception of Governor Beckham at Camp Young.

Before his departure from the city General Murray reiterated his statement in reply to the charge of Major Owens that he did not receive or request one cent of the fee allowed Captain Calhoun for the collection of this war claim.

"I might have said, and probably did say to Colonel Breckinridge, that I believed that I was entitled to some compensation for the collection of the claim, and I say so now, for I did considerable work in this matter."

"I expect to ask the legislature at the very next session to reimburse me for the work I performed in assisting to collect this claim. I did more work toward bringing about a settlement of the Spanish-American war claim than any other man, and have performed more work since my appointment as adjutant general, than any of my predecessors."

TAKEN TO THE HOME—A Mrs. Dean and two children arrived last evening from Hazel, Calloway county, and applied at the city hall for aid. She claimed she had been living in Graves county but was sent for by a man who wanted her to work for him at Hazel. She found when she reached the place that he could not employ her and came here. She and her children were taken to the home of the Friendless.

Master L. Luttrell has recovered after a several days' illness.

THE NEXT BALLOTS

What the One for the Next Election Will Look Like.

Many Different Things Will Be Voted On By the People in November.

PAPER IS EXTRA THICK

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 8—Secretary of State Hill has arranged the ballot to be used in the election in November next and the paper for it has been ordered for 102 of the 119 counties, the officials of that many counties having filed orders for it. The ballot is to be sixteen by twenty-six inches. The device of the Democratic party takes the first place on the ballot, that party having cast the highest number of votes at the last election. The first device to the right of that of the Democratic party is that of the Republican. Following it to the right are the device of the Socialist Labor party, a globe with two hands clasped across it. On the extreme right of the ballot is the question as to the adoption of the constitutional amendment. Beneath this is space for the court officials to insert questions on the issuing of bonds, which question is to be voted on in a number of counties. The placing of the constitutional amendment question on the extreme right of the ballot was done by Secretary Hill on the request of the committee of business men of the state who are pressing the adoption of the amendment. They desired as conspicuous and prominent place on the ballot as they could secure, and are of the opinion that it will receive more attention when placed on a line with the political party devices than if placed at the bottom of the ballot.

The paper for the ballots is of uniform size and thickness and is now being made by the state contractors and will be shipped either directly to the counties or to some printing establishment designated by the county.

ANOTHER VICTIM

MAN NOTIFIED HE INHERITS A LARGE FORTUNE.

Paterson, N. J., Oct. 8—Henry Courtenay, a waiter in a restaurant here, has just received a tip of $250,000 from a lawyer in the guise of a notice that he had fallen heir to the estate of an uncle in England.

He immediately cabled to the English representatives of the estate, requesting funds to enable him to make the journey.

Courtenay came here from New York about two weeks ago, having been unable to secure employment there.

His home is in Massachusetts, but he left there shortly after the death of his mother, having no other relatives on this side of the Atlantic. He tried in vain to secure employment in New York and finally drifted to this city and secured employment in a small restaurant.

He often spoke of wealthy relatives in England, but when the good news finally reached him, after lawyers had been searching for him for several months, he was almost stunned by his good fortune, and very much embarrassed by the congratulations of his fellow employees.

He is now anxiously awaiting a remittance from the English solicitors, having been out of employment so long that his funds are at a very low ebb.

BILLION DOLLAR MARK

REACHED FOR THE FIRST TIME BY THE POSTAL DEPARTMENT.

Washington, Oct. 8—Henry A. Castle, auditor for the postoffice department, has completed the trial balance for the fourth quarter of the year, which allows a final announcement of the income and outgo of the entire postal service for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1908.

The footings are as follows: Expenditures, $138,748,487; receipts, $134,224,446; deficit, $4,524,041.

The total financial transactions of the postal service for the year, including the money order system, are $1,026,781,408, thus for the first time passing the billion dollar mark.

TRYING TO CRAWL OUT.

Mayor Yeiser is quoted in the official printer as referring to the Sun
as an "unreliable paper," in connection with the article a few days ago about the city's refusal to pay to the public library trustees the $1,500 appropriated by the city for the library fund. The Sun published its statements on the authority of an officer of the library board, and from the records of the library board, which are public property, and which are incorrect if the Sun was incorrect.

The excuse offered last night for failing to pay the money over to the board on demand was that the mayor had no authority to pay it except on order of the boards. This may be true, and the reason it was not done, but it is not the reason given the trustees when the president of the library board attempted to get the money last Monday. If he had then been told that the board of trustees would be given the money as soon as the council and aldermen ordered the mayor to pay it, the trustees would have cheerfully waited. Instead they were told that a resolution had been passed ordering the money paid only to the permanent board of trustees, and not to this board.

As a result the records of the library board show that on application of the president for the money the city refused it. The records show for themselves.

It seems the truth is, the administration's bluff has been called by the library trustees, who announced that they would hold onto the library building until they got the $1,500 promised them by the city. When they applied to the city they were given to understand instead of that they would be paid the money when the boards authorized it, that they would not be paid it at all, and it was considered a turn down. The mayor may use his own methods for extricating himself from his political kee,

"ON TO CAIRO."

Hundreds of ardent supporters of the "On to Cairo" movement will be in Evansville, Ind., a week from today. The meeting will discuss measures to influence immediate legislation for a system of locks and dams on the Ohio from Pittsburgh to Cairo, to make the river navigable the year round for heavy laden craft.

The benefits of such an improvement would be manifold not only to every business man along the Ohio and its tributaries, but to the whole country as well. The borders of the Ohio originate traffic in four of the country's chief commodities: Coal, steel, lumber and tobacco, and to afford certain transportation by water
the year round for these important articles of consumption and export will be to increase the productivity of the Ohio valley, its wealth and its fame. The object of the association to have its meeting at Evansville next week is vital to the interests of five great states, and it is to be hoped that the united voice arising from that meeting will impress Congress with the necessity of immediate and systematic improvement of the Ohio.
"On to Cairo" is the watchword of 5,000,000 people in states bordering the Ohio, who have the future welfare of their commonwealths at heart.

The attendance at the Evansville meeting must speak the unanimous sentiment of the valley in tones so loud that they will be heard and acted upon quickly by Congress. Let Paducah send a representative delegation.

Great applause was accorded Col.
Harvey, chief surgeon of the Department of the Lakes, during an address to army officers at Camp Howard a night or so ago, when he declared that the abolition of the army canteen was a mistake. The absence of the canteen increases, rather than decreases drunkenness, Col. Harvey declared. The use of alcohol among soldiers is very pernicious in its effect, but it cannot be prevented. When the canteens were in existence the drinking could be regulated, and a better quality of beverages at lower prices could be bought than at the places the soldiers now go to spend their money.
It is probable a strong effort will be made to have Congress restore the canteen. All the army officers, with but few exceptions, who are in the best position to judge, are in favor of the canteen.

A peculiar case of mistaken identity is reported from Mattoon, Ill., where the Mayor was charged with various offenses such as sitting in a poker game and visiting disreputable resorts.
His twin brother was introduced in the trial and swore that it was he who had visited the places on the dates named. The Mayor was acquitted on the more serious charges, which goes to show the advantage of having a twin brother.

POLITICAL NOTES

MAJOR W. C. OWENS TO SPEAK
HERE TONIGHT.

Major W. C. Owens, who has attracted large crowds all over the state during the present campaign, will speak in Paducah tonight, and a large crowd is expected to hear him.

He will address the voters of Mc-Cracken county at the county court house at 8 p. m. and the prospects are for a large attendance.

Hon. N. B. Hays and Hon. Henry
George will arrive in Paducah next Monday to open the campaign for the Democrats. It has not yet been decided where the speaking will be held.

A WOMAN'S COMPLEXION.

It is rank foolishness to attempt to remove sallowness or greasiness of the skin by the use of cosmetics, or "local" treatment as advocated by the "beauty doctors." The only safe and sure way that a woman can improve her complexion is by purifying and enriching the blood, which can only be accomplished by keeping the liver healthy and active. The liver is the seat of disease and blood pollution.
Green's August Flower acts directly on the liver, cleanses and enriches the blood, purifies the complexion. It also cures constipation, biliousness, nervousness, and induces refreshing sleep. A single bottle of August Flower has been known to cure the most pronounced and distressing cases of dyspepsia and indigestion. New trial size bottle, 25 cents; regular size, 75 cents. At all druggists.

VALUABLE PROPERTY

Claimed by Relatives of Well Known Paducah People.

One Million Dollars Worth of Land in Tennessee Among That in Question.

NO CLAIMS BY LOCAL PEOPLE

Relatives of Mr. James Sevier, of the Gilson Paint store, Paducah, have instituted claims for some very valuable lands which, if secured, will make them all wealthy.

A Knoxville, Tenn., dispatch, says:
"Mrs. Emmet Humphreys of Sherman, Tex., is in this city in an effort to establish titles to lands which she claims should pass to heirs of John Sevier, the first governor of Tennessee.
Mrs. Humphreys is Sevier's great-granddaughter. Through her attorney she presented a claim to the Knox county court today for $12,654 balance she claims the county of Knox has owed the Sevier estate since 1810, an old settlement of that date showing the amount due. The matter was referred to County Judge A. D. Collier.

"Heirs of John Sevier, through Mrs.
Humphreys, claim over 100,000 acres of land in Tennessee which it is said many aggregate $1,000,000 in value.
According to Mrs. Humphreys the heirs claim the land was granted to John Sevier by act of congress in 1795.
"It is also claimed that the state of Tennessee has issued grants for every foot of the grant, much of which is now extensively improved. Mrs. Humphreys is preparing to institute legal proceedings in the hope of perfecting title to the property."

John Sevier was a great, great great uncle of Mr. James Sevier, and Mrs.
Finis Lack of this city. Mr. Sevier stated to a Sun reporter this morning, however, that he and sister had put in no claim to the land, said to belong to the estate of his relative.

TICKET PUT OUT IN FEW DAYS

It is understood that an independent ticket will be nominated by the

the city offices before the end of the week. It will not be a full ticket according to reports, but nominations will only be made for mayor, clerk, alderman and councilmen.

It will be composed of leading Democrats and Republicans. For mayor, Mr. E. W. Smith is mentioned as the probable nominee. Capt. Sames Koe and Mr. B. H. Scott are also mentioned for this place on the ticket. Capt.
Koe stated, however this morning that he would not consider the nomination.

For clerk Mr. George O. McBroom is tipped. Some of those mentioned for alderman are L. S. DuBois, S. T.
Hubbard, George Shelton, Andy Baur
and U. S. Walton. Among councilmanic possibilities, Messrs H. C.

Lack are some of the leading ones.
The call for the purpose of putting out the ticket is for tomorrow night,
as seen from the call elsewhere.

TO CUT OFF MANEUVERS

DEFICIT THREATENED IN THE NAVAL APPROPRIATION.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Fearful of a deficit in the fund for the maintenance of the navy, wise heads in the navy department are counseling a curtailment of the present system of army and navy maneuvers. There is a strong undercurrent of feeling in favor of withdrawing all battleships and heavy cruisers from participation in the annual summer war games with the coast defenses on the Atlantic coast.

It is said in the department
that the navy does not derive enough benefit from operations like those against Portland last summer, or at the entrance of Long Island sound in 1902. It has been suggested that tugs and auxiliaries would provide practically as good sham combatants for the coast fortifications as battleships, and could be operated at less risk and expense. The question will be jointly considered by the war and navy departments. Secretary Moody will make his decisions later.

It remains to be officially determined whether the benefit of the sham attacks of battleships to the army is great enough to offset the harm and expense to the navy. Army officers are somewhat inclined to believe so, but naval officers on duty in the department express the belief that the battleship squadron will not next summer be found making attacks on the coast defense.

SUSPECT ARRESTED

Young Man From Louisville
Caught Here.

Charged with Attempted Pocket-Picking—Trial Tomorrow.

A young man giving his name as Homer Roberts or Robertson, and claiming to be from Louisville, Ky.,
was arrested last night at the carnival grounds by Special Officer Joe Wooldridge for alleged attempted robbery.

It is alleged that Roberts and three companions had a country youth at the carnival preparing to take his money but were given a cue by some confederate that they were being watched and tried to make their escape. Officer Wooldridge caught Robertson but the others escaped. The case will come up before Judge Sanders tomorrow morning.

He had a $20 Confederate bill and a large number of business cards on him,
and acknowledges he is a wanderer.
He is believed to be a professional crook.

Mr. J. R. Paryear has returned from a business trip to Chicago.

JUDGE HUSBANDS

Able to go to Benton to Hold Court.

Attorney L. K. Taylor Summoned in Bogus Ballot Case.

Judge L. D. Husbands went to Benton this morning to relieve Special Judge Wm. Reed in Marshall circuit court. Judge Reed has several cases he is interested in and will not be on the bench during the trial.

The grand jury is still in session but has not returned any sensational indictments, although the investigation of the alleged ballot frauds is still going on and Attorney L. K. Taylor was summoned today to go down and appear before the grand jury in this matter.

Yesterday the grand jury returned several indictments but all were for misdemeanors and for the illicit sale of liquor. Court at Benton will be wound up this week, it is thought.

FISCAL COURT

Settlement With the Treasurer Taken up Today.

A New Bridge Is to Be Constructed Over Clark's River.

Fiscal court met again this morning and after remaining in session long enough to settle with Treasurer Loving, adjourned until this afternoon at 2 o'clock when the court will finally adjourn after the signature of the orders of the term.

The settlement with Receiver Loving showed expenditures amounting to $12,451, leaving a balance in the treasury of $3,287.92. This settlement was made from June 30 to September 30.

The settlement with the treasurer from June 30 to October 5, county levy and special fund, showed expenditures amounting to $16,299.84 with a balance of $3,354.69.

The settlement with the treasurer from June 30 to October 5, pauper fund, showed expenditures amounting to $1,966.92 leaving a balance of $398.08.

Judge Lightfoot and County Attorney Graves were empowered to investigate the title to a piece of land at Sixth and Jones streets.

The county road supervisor was instructed to construct a 225 foot bridge over Clark's river at the Bolin road ford. It is expected that the bridge will cost several thousand dollars and be paid for out of next year's levy.

The court made an order for stoves for the court house which will this winter be heated with stoves. The steam heat does not seem to do the work.

DAMAGE SUITS COMES UP—The suit of the administrator of Chas. Dodd, of Benton, Marshall county, comes up in the Marshall circuit court today. Twenty-five thousand dollars is asked of the N. C. and St. L. railroad for killing young Dodd, who was struck by a train while sitting on the track asleep. He had been to Paducah and was walking out the road when he met his fate.

A REBELLION

FOOD DEMANDED.

The human body will stand a lot of abuse but some time it will surely rebel and demand the proper food in place of the pasty, starchy, greasy stuffs on which it has been made sick.

There is the time to feed Grape Nuts, the most scientific and perfect food in the world. A lady of Washington says: "Three years ago I was very ill with catarrh of the stomach and was given up to die by one doctor I laid in bed four months and my stomach was so weak that I could not keep down medicine or hardly any kind of food and was so weak and emaciated after four months of this starvation that my daughter could easily lift me from bed and put me in my chair. But weak as my stomach was, it accepted and relished and digested Grape Nuts without any difficulty the first time that wonderful food was tried.

"My doctor told me that I would have to eat Grape Nuts, which were pre-digested, and although I felt certain I could not keep the food on my stomach I had to make the trial and it was a most complete success. I am now strong and in better health than for a great many years and am gradually growing still stronger. I rely on Grape Nuts for most of the nourishment that I get. The results have certainly been wonderful in my case and prove that no stomach is so weak it will not digest Grape Nuts.

"My baby got so fat from feeding on Grape Nuts I was afraid I would have to stop feeding them to him but I guess it is a healthy fat for his health is just perfect." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

NOT READY TO TALK

Manager of the Gas Company Makes a Brief Statement.

Has Not Consulted His Attorney About the Meter Rent in Paducah.

Manager Coffee, of the Paducah Gas company, in regard to the opinion of the city solicitor rendered at the council meeting last night, is not ready to make a statement in regard to the Gas company's position. It is probable, however, that a fight will be made in Paducah to test the law regarding the charges for "meter rent," which the solicitor says are illegal.

There are a number of people in Paducah, according to the Gas company, who have pipes and meters in their buildings to use only in case the electric lights or other forms of illumination give out. There is no revenue derived from them, and if they do not desire to use gas they can have the meters removed and the supply pipes plugged, and the company will then know no service is desired. As it stands at present according to the gas company, two trips a month have to be made by the company's employees to the residences or places of business of those who have gas meters and if no gas is used, the company is put to the expense of sending a man around just the same.

A consultation with attorneys will be held, and the company will then be ready to announce whether or not it will pay any attention to the solicitor's opinion.

THE FAIR.

The inclement weather kept thousands away from the county fair yesterday, but the free attractions and races went on just the same, and were greatly enjoyed by all present.

The diving elk made a great hit jumping into huge tanks from a platform, while the educated horses, the trick mule and clowns, and Paul Maize, the terrible Indian in feats of strength, greatly pleased the crowd. Paul Brady, comedy acrobat, and Prof. Burris, in a slide for life down a wire, won much applause.

The races were run, despite the fact that the track was heavy, and Topa won the 2:30 pace in straight heats. Uno and Charlie B also ran.

In two straights Tom Gilmore won the 5-8 heats running, Marco Polo second and Pal Boudre third.

Women and children in the tent screamed and shrieked, and the howling of the buffaloes added to the excitement.

ONE GREAT BREATHITT

Will Be the State of Kentucky if Beckham is Re-Elected.

(Louisville Herald.)
There passed through Louisville on Tuesday evening J. L. Napier, of Clayhole, Breathitt county, with his wife and child on their way to Oklahoma, fugitives from the terrorism still prevalent in Breathitt. That assassination has not been eradicated from that ill-fated district by the Beckhamistic pretense of enforcing the law is very clear from Napier's enforced flight, because he had fallen under the ban of the rule of blood and terror.

We take his statements from the morning Democratic organ. On Tuesday night last Napier said to a representative of that paper:
"Last Wednesday I was in the store sorting mail, when a man came into the store and lounged around there for half an hour. I was busy opening the mail, and when I came to the registered letters he drew a 45 Colt and told me to hand over that mail. As he said that he fired and ran. The bullet did not come close to me, but it was aimed at me. There were a lot of people in the store at the time, and they all ran as soon as they saw the big gun."

This occurred at Clayhole, ten miles from Jackson, where Napier was postmaster and storekeeper. The next day he went to Jackson and asked for a warrant. "I went," he says, "before Judge Hargis and swore to an affidavit, but he did not issue the warrant."

Napier significantly adds:
"There is no law in Breathitt. Warrants cannot be secured unless the man who wants the warrant is on the right side. There are seven magistrates in the county, and six of them do the bidding of one of the leaders. I do not know the seventh, as he lives in the far end of the county, so I don't know how he stands. Jackson is quiet until the man they want gets there, then there is the crack of a rifle, and he is dead. Jackson is quieter than the rest of the county, but it is all under one man's thumb. He boasts that he is ruler in Breathitt county."

The plain truth is that the Breathitt leaders understand Beckham. Governor Beckham has frequently, for reasons of political gain and of political reward, issued pardons. He has done so at the instance of the leaders. He will, if elected, do it again. Breathitt will, by a large majority, vote for Beckham. He must, according to politics and to Beckham precedents, in plenty return political favors with prerogative favors. There can be no return of security to Breathitt so long as Beckham is governor of Kentucky. His re-election in November would precipitate outbursts of lawlessness. The parole and pardon brokers would turn loose on the state everywhere the very class of men that has made it impossible for any but those willing to accept tyranny to live in Breathitt.

Shall Kentucky become one great Breathitt?

PERMANENTLY LOST.

Col. Breckinridge Speaks of Democrats Who Have Left That Party.

When such men as Henry Stone, Temple Bodley, Morton Joyce and Alfred Selligman deliberately leave the party of their convictions, of their young manhood, of their dearest associates, of their beloved relatives, it is, indeed, well for the leaders of that party to pause and consider; to anxiously try to ascertain the cause and, if possible, remedy the evils complained of. These are not office-seekers; they are making sacrifices in consenting to make this race; they are not political mendicants—paupers seeking alms in the form of office and its emoluments. Is there no policy honorable alike to all parties on which these men and men like unto them and Democrats who adhere to the regular organization can agree? Must such men be permanently lost to the national Democratic party and be permanently hostile to the state Democratic party? These are not carpet-baggers; these are not scalawags—they are Kentuckians of Kentuckians, "to the manner born"—heirs of the noblest Kentucky traditions and bravest Kentucky deeds, and loving Kentucky with full hearts, they have served her faithfully and lovingly.—Lexington Herald.

SOME BECKHAM APPOINTMENTS.

Speaking of Beckham's appointments, few are on the inside of the appointment of the Elliott county member of the state board of equalization. The inside facts are, Chairman Allie Young made his boy Beckham, over whom he had fatherly control at that time, appoint his good friend, John Mannin, a member of the board. Mannin had been a member of the Toller band of feudists in Rowan county, of which the Youngs were members and chief advisers, and was shot in the hand in one of the battles. It turned out that Mannin was disqualified by the fact that he can neither read nor write. But a way was made that his disqualification by lack of education should not disqualify him from drawing a part of the pay, so Allie had Beckham to permit Mannin to furnish a substitute in the person of one-handed, red-headed John Flannery, of the same county, and the latter got 50 per cent of the emoluments and Mannin the other half.

Most of our readers know the above appointments. They are not worse and no better than the general run of Beckham-Young appointments.—Grayson Tribune.

NO CONSTITUTIONAL SECOND TERM.

The whole spirit of the constitution of the state of Kentucky is a spirit of prohibition of a second term for public office. It is the old spirit, the old Democratic demand for rotation in office, that has controlled the formation of the present constitution of the state of Kentucky, this spirit also largely controlling the constitution of 1849. Section 93 of the present constitution of the state of Kentucky reads as follows:

"The Treasurer, Auditor of Public Accounts, Secretary of State, Commissioner of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics, Attorney General, Superintendent of Public Instruction and Register of the Land Office, shall be ineligible to re-election for the succeeding four years after the expiration of the term for which they shall have been elected."

This is a very sweeping prohibition, and the principle of it is to be noted in other sections of the constitution. For instance, section 71 refers to the governor, and declares:

"He shall be ineligible for the succeeding four years after the expiration of the term for which he shall have been elected."

Section 82 provides for a lieutenant governor who shall possess the same qualifications as the governor, and contains this clause:

"He shall be ineligible to the office of lieutenant governor for the succeeding four years after the expiration of the term for which he shall have been elected."

It is provided in section 160, relating to municipal officers, that "No mayor or chief executive or fiscal officer of any city of the first or second class, after the expiration of the term of office to which he has been elected under this constitution, shall be eligible for the succeeding term."

We have quoted these sections of the constitution in order to recall to the people of Kentucky the spirit of that instrument. The people sought to destroy the possibility of the erection within the state of an officeholding oligarchy, of an officeholders' trust, such as has been established at Frankfort, and such as has been established in the city of Louisville. This trust is built up by the patronage of public office. Power once secured is never surrendered without a protest. The people recognized the evils that inevitably follow the attempt of ambitious men to perpetuate themselves in office, and they wrote this prohibition in the constitution as broad as possible.

And yet the politicians of the state, directing and controlling the Democratic organization, defy the constitution, override its prohibitions, evade the letter where they can not openly violate it, and, in spite of the constitution, use the patronage of one term of office to secure another term of office.

It is contended in behalf of the governor that, strictly interpreted, the prohibition does not apply to an officer serving out the unexpired term of his predecessor. This, we believe, is the strict interpretation of the letter of the constitution, but in the case of Governor Beckham it is to be considered that he has served nearly four years. He was given the office of lieutenant governor by proceedings revolutionary in their character and revolutionary in their effect. Defeated by the people, the Democratic caucus made him lieutenant governor. When Mr. Goebel was assassinated he at once succeeded to Mr. Goebel and became governor. In November, 1900, he was nominated by the Democratic party in spite of the Courier-Journal's "demand for a man" which was intended to set aside Mr. Beckham—and, under the forms of law, he was elected to serve out the term of three years.

Manifestly, the spirit of the constitution is just as much violated when Mr. Beckham is a candidate for governor as it would have been violated had Governor Bradley been nominated by the Republicans in 1899.

It is hardly worth while to argue this proposition. It is not a question of the strict interpretation of the forms of the constitution. It is a question merely of the purpose of the constitution, and it is violated, not only in the nomination of Mr. Beckham, but the spirit of it is violated, moreover, in nominating Mr. McChesney, now superintendent of public instruction, for secretary of state; in nominating Mr. Haager, now secretary of state, for auditor. Mr. Vreeland, who is assistant in the office of the commissioner of agriculture, becomes the party candidate for commissioner of agriculture to succeed Mr. Nall.

Of course if the people of Kentucky are satisfied with this arrangement, they will vote for these candidates. A vote for these candidates is a vote temporarily to suspend the prohibitions of the constitution. It is a vote to sustain the belief that the officeholding trust at Frankfort is made up of men of such superior attainments, such breadth of mind, such statesmanlike capacity, that the state can not afford to do without their services.—Louisville Post.

Since the Hon. Sam Crossland has mounted the raging stump the Herald utilizes little hesitancy in stating that the Republicans will be damned and damned frequently, while the issues will be cussed if not discussed.

Notwithstanding all the criticism heaped upon the inside and outside hairless head of the Hon. Holler James, it must be admitted that he is a man of parts.

At ten cents each every school child in the state will be able to cast at least one vote for his or her favorite teacher. But the voting will not be confined to school children.

PARENTS OF PUPILS OR ANY OF THEIR FRIENDS MAY VOTE. The purpose of the Association being to elect the most popular school teacher in each county, as so considered by the public generally, as well as by the school children. Ballots contain ten spaces, so clubs of ten pupils may be arranged and each giving ten cents be credited with his or her vote. If one person desires to cast ten votes, it may be done by writing his or her name on one of the spaces and remitting one dollar. It is not required that the name of the person voting be given at all. All of the spaces for voters' names may be left blank. The Association wants, however, to enroll in the Kentucky Building at St. Louis next year the name of every child who cast one or more votes in the contest. Pupils are asked therefore to sign their names plainly to the ballots.

ALL EXPENSES OF THE TEACHERS WILL BE PAID BY THE ASSOCIATION. This will include railroad transportation from Louisville to St. Louis and return, board at one of the best hotels in the city for six days and admission to the exposition grounds for six days.

THREE PARTIES WILL BE MADE UP FROM THE MOST POPULAR TEACHERS to make the trip, more profitable and more enjoyable. Each of these parties will consist of forty (40) teachers. This more than makes up for the cost of the trip. The Association has decided to allow two teachers—the most popular and the second most popular—to go from that county—Jefferson excepted—which casts the greatest number of votes in the contest.

ALL TEACHERS IN THE STATE STAND ON AN EQUAL FOOTING in this contest. The teacher with only twenty pupils may receive more votes than the teacher with five or six times as many enrolled in his or her school, because the voting is not confined to children. The public will be an important factor.

Votes may be cast for any person who taught school during 1902 or is teaching now. This gives the teacher of a five months' school, which closed in November or December, the opportunity to be voted for during the vacation period.

ANY NUMBER OF BALLOTS MAY BE CAST AT ONE TIME. There is no limit. The more dollars sent in for any one teacher the more votes he or she will be credited with.

ONE DOLLAR CASTS TEN VOTES; TWO DOLLARS CASTS TWENTY VOTES; THREE DOLLARS CASTS THIRTY VOTES; FOUR DOLLARS CASTS FORTY VOTES; FIVE DOLLARS CASTS FIFTY VOTES; TEN DOLLARS CASTS A HUNDRED VOTES; ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS CASTS ONE THOUSAND VOTES.

All of the money received in this contest, over and above that used in defraying expenses of the 120 most popular teachers of the state on their trips to the World's Fair, will go for the erection of a Kentucky Building at the exposition; so every voter in this contest may have the additional satisfaction of knowing that he has aided a worthy cause.

THE STANDING OF THE CONTENDERS WILL BE PRINTED FREQUENTLY in each county to show his or her friends how the race is being run. Begin voting now for your favorite school teacher. The votes will be counted under the supervision of the Educational Exhibit Committee of the Association. The personnel of this committee is as follows: Prof. H. G. Brownell, Louisville; Chairman; Prof. H. V. McChesney, Frankfort; Prof. R. F. Hallett, Louisville; Prof. W. H. Bartholomew, Louisville; Prof. F. Paul Anderson, Lexington; Dr. Chase Palmer, Danville; President William Dinwiddie, Jackson; Dr. W. G. Frost, Here; Dr. B. H. Hinton, Louisville; Dr. E. Y. Mullins, Louisville; Dr. Arthur Yager, Georgetown; Superintendent M. A. Cassidy, Lexington; Superintendent S. L. Frogge, Frankfort; Prof. C. J. Crabbe, Ashland; Prof. McHenry Rhoads, Owensboro; Prof. T. S. Alley, Bellevue; Prof. C. C. Cherry, Bowling Green; Prof. Elmer Spencer, Louisville; Miss Pattie E. Hill, Louisville; Mrs. Emily E. Bracken, Louisville; and Mrs. M. B. Tucker, Louisville. Members of the Educational Committee are not eligible to election in this contest.

REMEMBER EVERY COUNTY ELECTS ITS OWN FAVORITE TEACHER. Competition between counties only applies to the race for the 120th trip, the county, outside of Jefferson, casting the largest total number of votes being granted the distinction of sending two teachers. The result will be announced in every paper in the state, and, in addition to this, a congratulatory message will go to the teacher elected in each county. Later the details of the trip will be arranged, each teacher chosen being given the privilege of selecting the month—June, July or August, 1904—in which he or she wants to make the trip.

ALICE of OLD VINCENNES

By MAURICE THOMPSON

Copyright, 1930, by the BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

There was furious cursing among the patrolmen as they tumbled about in the room, the unhurt ones trampling their prostrate companions and striking wildly at each other in their blindness and confusion. At last one of them brought him to open a dark lantern with which the night guards were furnished. Its flame was fluttering and gave forth a pale red light that danced weirdly on the floors and walls.

Alice had snatched down one of her rapiers when the guards first entered. They now saw her facing them with her slender blade leveled, her back to the wall, her eyes shining dangerously. Mme. Roussillon had fled into the adjoining room. Jean had also disappeared. The officer, a subaltern in charge of the guard, seeing Alice and not quickly able to make out that it was a woman thus defying him, crossed swords with her. There was small space for action. Moreover, the officer, being not in the least a swordsman, played awkwardly, and quick as a flash his point was down. The rapier entered just below his throat with a dull, chucking stab. He leaped back.

ward, feeling at the same time a pair of arms clasp his legs. It was Jean, and the lieutenant, thus unexpectedly tangled, fell to the floor, breaking, but not extinguishing, the guard's lantern as he went down. The little remaining oil spread and flamed up brilliantly, as if eager for conflagration, sputtering along the uneven boards.

"Kill that imp!" cried the lieutenant in a strangled voice while trying to regain his feet. "Shoot! Bayonet!"

In his pain, rage and haste he inadvertently set his hand in the midst of the blazing oil, which clung to the flesh with a seething grip.

"Thunder!" he screamed. "Fire! Fire!"

Two or three bayonets were leveled upon Alice. Some one kicked Jean clean across the room, and he lay there, curled up in his hairy night wrap, looking like an enormous porcupine.

At this point a new performer came upon the stage, a dark robed thing so active that its outlines changed elusively, giving it no recognizable features. It might have been Satan himself or some terrible unknown wild animal clad somewhat to resemble a man, so far as the startled guards could make out. It clattered right and left, hurled one of them against the wall, dashed another through the door into Mme. Roussillon's room, where the good woman was waiting at the top of her voice, and felled a third with a stroke like that of a bear's paw.

Consternation was at high tide when Farnsworth, who always slept with an ear open, reached Roussillon place and quickly quieted things. He was troubled beyond expression when he found out the true state of the affair, for there was nothing that he could do but arrest Alice and take her to Hamilton. It made his heart sink. He would have thought little of ordering a file of soldiers to shoot a man under the same conditions, but to subject her again to the governor's stern cruelty—how could he do it? This time there would be no hope for her.

Alice stood before him flushed, disheveled, defiant, sword in hand, beautiful and terrible as an angel. The black figure, man or devil, had disappeared as strangely as it had come. The subaltern was having his slight wound bandaged. Men were raging and cursing under their breath, rubbing their bruised heads and limbs. "Alice—Mlle. Roussillon, I am so sorry for this," said Captain Farnsworth. "It is painful, terrible!"

He could not go on, but stood before her unmanned. In the feeble light his face was wan, and his hurt shoulder, still in bandages, drooped perceptibly.

"I surrender to you," she presently said in French, extending the hilt of her rapier to him. "I had to defend myself when attacked by your lieutenant there. If an officer finds it necessary to set upon a girl with his sword, may not the girl guard her life if she can?"

She was short of breath, so that her voice palpitated with a touching plangency that shook the man's heart. Farnsworth accepted the sword. He could do nothing less. His duty admitted of no doubtful consideration, yet he hesitated, feeling around in his mind for a phrase with which to evade the inevitable.

"It will be safer for you at the fort, mademoiselle. Let me take you there."

CHAPTER XIII.

A MEETING IN THE WILDERNESS.

BEVERLEY set out on his mid-winter journey to Kaskaskia with a tempest in his heart, and it was perhaps the storm's energy that gave him the courage to face undaunted and undoubting what his experience must have told him lay in his path. What meant suffering to him if he could but rescue Alice? And what were life should he fail to rescue her? The old, old song hummed in his heart, every phrase of it distinct above the tumult of the storm. Could cold and hunger, swollen streams, ravenous beasts and scalp hunting savages baffle him? No; there is no barrier that can hinder love. He said this over and over to himself after his encounter with the four Indian scouts on the Wabash. He repeated it with every heart beat until he fell in with some friendly red men, who took him to their camp, where, to his great surprise, he met M. Roussillon. It was his song when again he strode off toward the west on his lonely way.

He did not know that Long Hair and his band were fast on his track, but the knowledge could not have urged him to greater haste. He strained every muscle to its utmost, kept every nerve to the highest tension. Yonder toward the west was help for Alice. That was all he cared for.

But if Long Hair was pursuing him with relentless greed for the reward offered by Hamilton there were friendly footsteps still nearer behind him, and one day at high noon while he was bending over a little fire brooding some liberal cuts of venison a finger tapped him on the shoulder. He sprang up and grappled Uncle Jazon. At the same time, standing near by, he saw Simon Kenton, his old time Kentucky friend. The rugged features of one and the fine, rugged face of the other swam as in a mist before Beverley's eyes. Kenton was laughing quietly, his strong, upright form shaking to the force of his pleasure. He was in the early prime of a vigorous life, not handsome, but strikingly attractive by reason of a certain glow in his face and a kindly flash in his deep set eyes.

"Well, well, my boy!" he exclaimed, laying his left hand on Beverley's shoulder, while in the other he held a long, heavy rifle. "I'm glad to see ye, glad to see ye!"

"Thought we was Injuns, eh?" said Uncle Jazon. "An' ef we had 'a' been we'd 'a' been shore o' your scalp!" The wizened old creole chuckled gleefully.

"And where are ye goin'?" demanded Kenton. "Ye're makin' what lacks a heap o' bein' a bee line for some place or other."

Beverley was dazed and vacant minded. Things seemed wavering and dim. He pushed the two men from him and gazed at them without speaking. Their presence and voices did not convince him.

"Ye meat's a-burnin'," said Uncle Jazon, stooping to turn it on the smoldering coals. "Ye must be hungry. Cookin' enough for a regiment."

Kenton shook Beverley with rough familiarity as if to rouse his faculties. "What's the matter? Fitz, my lad, don't ye know St. Kenton? It's not so long since we were like brothers, and now ye don't speak to me. Ye've not forgotten me, Fitz?"

"Mebby he don't like ye as well as ye thought he did," drawled Uncle Jazon. "I hev known o' fellers a-bein' mistaken jes' thet way."

Beverley got his wits together as best he could, taking in the situation by such degrees as seemed at the time unduly slow, but which were really mere momentary falterings.

"Why, Kenton! Jazon!" he presently exclaimed, a cordial gladness blending with his surprise. "How did you get here? Where did you come from?"

He looked from one to the other back and forth, with a wondering smile breaking over his bronzed and determined face.

"We've been hot on yer trail for thirty hours," said Kenton. "Roussillon put us on it back yonder. But what are ye up to? Where are ye goin'?"

"I'm going to Clark at Kaskaskia to bring him yonder." He waved his hand eastward. "I am going to take Vincennes and kill Hamilton."

"Well, ye're takin' a mighty queer course, my boy, if ye ever expect to find Kaskaskia. Ye're already twenty miles too far south."

"Carryin' his gun on the same shoulder all the time," said Uncle Jazon, "has made 'im kind o' swing in a curve like. 'Tint' good luck now to carry yer gun on yer left shoulder. When ye do it meks ye take a longer step with yer right foot than ye do with yer left, an' ye can't walk a straight line to save yer liver. Ventrebou! La venalson brule encore! Look at that dasted meat burnin' ag'in!"

He jumped back to the fire to turn the scorching cuts.

Theatrical Notes.

The Peyton Sisters had a good crowd at the matinee yesterday afternoon and last night presented "Little Alabama" to a fairly large and well pleased house. The company is exceptionally strong, and should be seen by everybody who likes a first class show at popular prices.

Those present pronounced the performance without doubt the best ever witnessed here for the money. One feature was a colored male quartette from Paducah, which made quite a hit in the plantation scene of songs and dances.

CUPID GETS BUSY

Two Couples Married at Metropolis Yesterday.

Mr. John Ripley and Miss Ella Brown Married in Jeffersonville.

There were two weddings of Kentuckians at Metropolis yesterday afternoon, and in one the bride is a popular former Paducah girl, who was Miss Alice Tuder, now of Greenville.

The young lady is the daughter of a well known I. C. conductor, and arrived yesterday. Prof. Espa Lee Simmons, of Lone Oak college, met her here and they went down to Metropolis in the afternoon, being married by Rev. L. B. Duncan, of the city, at the State Hotel. They returned in the afternoon and will live at Lone Oak.

About the same time there was another marriage of Kentucky people at the same place by the same minister. Mr. Augustus M. Dycus and Miss Onie M. McWaters, the former of Palms and the other of Briensburg, Marshall county, eloped and were married by Rev. Duncan. They also returned to the city last evening and returned home this morning.

A marriage that will come as pleasant news to the many friends of the couple here is that of Miss Ella Brown, formerly a stenographer for the Sutherland Medicine company, and Mr. John Ripley, formerly shipping clerk for the Scott Hardware company. They were married at the home of an aunt of the bride in Jeffersonville, Ind., Monday night by a Presbyterian minister. The bride had been residing in Jeffersonville with her aunt for several months past. Mr. Ripley went up several days ago, and the couple have decided to live in Louisville, where Mr. Ripley will accept a position.

SLIDE DOWN ROPE TO ELOPE.

INDIAN GIRLS IN SCHOOL MAKE PERILOUS ESCAPE TO WED.

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 8.—Weeks of clandestine meetings resulted in a double elopement from the government Indian school near Tower, when two Indian schoolgirls, one 17 and the other 18 years of age, ran away with two quarter breeds of Tower, Thomas Gheen, 21 years, and John Gagnon, 18 years of age.

For some time the girls had been stealing out of school to meet their lovers and finally the elopement was planned.

Superintendent Gates and the school authorities got wind of their clandestine meetings and carefully locked the doors and windows at night, but the two girls slipped out through an upper window, their lovers passing ropes to them, down which they slid three stories. They were caught at Halfway House, 20 miles from Tower.

Here the girls jumped from a window and escaped, and later the boys got away, but in the meantime the girls had met a third fellow and Gheen's girl continued the elopement with the newcomer.

PADUCAH WILL MAKE APPLICATION IN TWO LEAGUES.

A prominent baseball promoter of the city said today that Paducah would by this evening have in a formal application for admission into both the Central and the Southern leagues. Both cannot of course be entered, but at least one, it is thought, will be pleased to admit Paducah. Paducah will be glad to enter either league and which will favorably consider the application remains to be seen.

BOGOTA, Miss., March 19, 1903.

Gentlemen: It affords me no little pleasure to testify to the wonderful properties of Hayes' Beechwood Emulso-Hypo with iron, as it saved my life when the physicians said that I could not get well. Shoffner-Hayes Medicine Co., Paducah, Ky. In 1901 my mother commenced taking Hayes' Beechwood Emulso-Hypo with iron, when the doctors said her lungs were so badly involved that she would not likely be alive but a few weeks. It improved her so rapidly that she was soon in good health for one of her years. I wish you the success you deserve with your Beechwood Emulso.
